

Tuatara is on the scrounge for some part-time tasting mavens, bestowed with superior palates to join our tasting team in Auckland!

You'll host a range of tasting experiences within retail, corporate events and festivals, be able to wax lyrical on the esteemed properties of Tuatara and use your superior palate to interpret our true-to-style brew to both craft beer nerds and newbies alike.

Key responsibilities and attributes:

- Demonstrate impeccable, friendly customer service; any sales experience is a plus.
- Must be well-presented, articulate and enjoy interacting and chatting with people.
- Have a positive attitude, be committed and flexible to the requirements of the role.

Non-negotiables: You must be at least 18-years-old, have NZ residency or a valid NZ work visa, and have a current full drivers licence and own mode of transport to get from A to B in a timely fashion.

Additional brownie points for: Already being an avid fan of Tuatara and/or craft beer; having an appreciation for and/or knowledge about craft beer and the brewing process.

If all of the above sounds uncannily like you, send us a cover letter outlining why you're right for Tuatara with your CV to: kenneth@tuatarabrewing.co.nz.
